Management problems following his marriage to Maria Elena Santiago lead to a split with the Crickets. This resulted in royalty disputes and a hectic tour of the Mid-west (with a new backing group comprised of Waylon Jennings on bass, Tommy Allsup on lead guitar and Carl Bunch on drums) to ease resulting cashflow problems. Buddy and his band leave New York City by train (not bus as portrayed in the movie) for Chicago. In Chicago they meet up with other artists and set out by bus for Wisconsin
